

14 ARRESTS HALT BIG ARMY THEFTS

Seven Civilians and Seven Soldiers Taken in Raid on Warehouse.

CHARGE WIDE CONSPIRACY

Blankets Worth $250,000 Loaded on Five Trucks Alleged Loot of Gang.

An attempt to steal $250,000 worth of army blankets—the cargo of five trucks loaded at the Army Quartermaster Supply Base at the foot of Fifty-eighth street, South Brooklyn—was interrupted yesterday afternoon at the Riverside Storage Warehouse Company, 132 West 127th street, to which the trucks had been driven as a result of a conspiracy that is believed to include twenty or more members of the civilian and soldier ranks. The trucks were loaded with blankets just as the first truck was being unloaded. They arrested seven civilians including one said to be manager of the warehouse, and seven soldiers, members of the truck crew.

Maj. Joseph J. McConville, executive officer at the base, said the conspiracy had become known several days ago and was allowed to ripen under surveillance. It was one of a series of robberies, Maj. McConville said, but the largest and most audacious yet devised. Suspicion was aroused by the discovery that some of the army supplies had been consigned to Camp Merritt, N. J.

At Camp Merritt was closed and abandoned. An investigation was made quietly at Maj. McConville's direction. Yesterday afternoon when the goods for the "Camp Merritt" consignment were being piled on the trucks, the police were an interested observer. By the time the trucks started for Manhattan the army police and detectives had spread the net. The trucks were followed from the West Shore ferry at

PERSONALS.

ALL baggage checked at the Cardinal Ferry Station and Soldiers Club, 15 East 12th st., will be removed on or before February 14. No responsibility for baggage left after that date.

HERMAN—Evelyn O. K. Call me at NICK.

LOUISE ELLIOTT, or other colored maids employed by Mrs. Minnie Allen at 2714 Broadway, from year 1908 to 1912. Please send address to LEGAL, Sun office. Not responsible for any debts not contracted by myself. JAMES A. REACHER, United States Navy.

PUDY—Please communicate at once with Mulhender, New York office, who will lead to powerful assistance. Influential friends. Help in New York. PUDY—Please come to me.

HELEN—The sons of Mary and Andrew Robinson, last heard of in Pennsylvania, America, in the year 1910, please communicate with their uncle, Matthew Tumbly, 3 Alder st., New York. Mr. Robinson, as a result of his anxiety to hear from them.

WITNESSES to the following accident: About 10:30 a. m. on the 12th st. subway platform and subway train at Grand Central Station, Thursday, January 29, 1920, A. M. M. placed and left address to 31st st. Hartmann, 175 East 77th st., New York.

LOST AND FOUND.

LIBERAL REWARD.
Lost Saturday 18th DIAMOND RING, two stones. AUGUSTUS S. MAPES, telephone 2-2875.
LOST—A LARGE DIAMOND BROOCH, with an emerald in center and two large pear shaped yellow shade diamonds, the evening of January 30, 1920, at 4th st. Madison ave. to 4th, Lydia Thers, 1250 Broadway. Reward to finder. GERRI, 270 York ave.

LOST—(Canadian Pacific) Railway Company common stock certificate No. B-21210, for 20 shares registered in the name of William Dwyer. Notice is hereby given that if the certificate is not presented within 30 days of the date of this notice, the same will be void. P. H. McCurdy & Co., Halifax, Canada.

LOST—Feb. 3, at top of elevator in Macy's store, bag and leather bag containing money and check. If the lady who was seen picking up bag, please return same to Mrs. C. C. Thacher, 70 Park ave. She will be liberally rewarded.

LOST—Pink book, 1920, N. Y. Mercantile Bankers' Assoc. of the Nineteenth Ward Bank, 724 1st branch, now Chatham & 19th. National Bank, 200 1st st. N. Y. Payment stopped. Please return book to bank.

LOST—PATENT LEATHER SUITCASE, containing dress and other articles, from between 23d Regiment Arsenal and uptown theatre, Broadway, between 23d and 24th st. N. Y. Payment stopped. Please return book to bank.

LOST—West 50th, near 10th ave., Tuesday afternoon, 10:10. A black leather bag, both marked S. T. W. contents, a black bag, both marked S. T. W. contents, a black bag, both marked S. T. W. contents, a black bag, both marked S. T. W. contents. Reward, no questions. 132 W. 127th st.

LOST—SMALL, OLIVE AND DIAMOND RING, 18th BLAUER, Saturday evening, Jan. 31, between 5th and 4th st.; reward $20. S. P. 129 Herald.

LOST—Monday afternoon, February 2, in automobile between Union and Broadway, 43th st. SEALSINK MUFF.
Reward, Apartment 2, 219 West 80th st.

LOST—Tuesday, February 3, probably on 5th av., between 10 and 11 o'clock, medium sized diamond umbrella. Reward, no questions. 189 East 1st.

LOST—GOLD WRIST WATCH, with name of Anna Sawyer engraved on the back. Reward because of sentimental value. T. B. 143 W. 17th st.

LOST—Commodore Hotel, Tuesday morning, a lady's beaded bag containing jewelry and jewelry. Liberal reward if returned to 128 Commodore Hotel.

LOST—SMALL BLACK SATIN BAG, containing about $50, dropped in Park av., between 44th and 45th st. Please return to 233 Park av. Reward.

LOST—Long brown made up lined above and below, 1000 Broadway, between 57th and 58th st. reward. Phone 220.

LOST—LEATHER SUITCASE, between Union st. to 100th st. and Vanderbilt Hotel. Return to room 701, Hotel Vanderbilt, and reward.

LOST—LARGE BLACK FUR COLLAR, Monday evening, in Playhouse Theatre or outside, in vicinity of MARTIN, 51 Park av. Plaza—7203.

LOST—On January 31, on 46th st., east, and 47th st., N. Y. City, between 46th and 47th st. Reward return to Apartment 5, 102 East 46th st.

LOST—Hippodrome, Saturday matinee, child's HEAVY COLORED. Reward. BAKER, 542 West End ave.

LOST—Shank necklace, Carnegie Hall Tuesday afternoon. Reward, 101 West 10th st., Apartment 2.

LOST—RING OF PEARLS on Saturday, reward. Klutz, 130 West 10th st.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD for return of diamond and platinum set, lost between 10th and 11th st. Grand Central Station, Booth 21. Address: L. W. Schwartz, 51 Liberty st.

$100 REWARD for diamond brooch, lost Jan. 31, between Westchester and Park ave. 5th st. TIPPANY & CO., 5th av. and 57th st.

$200 REWARD

return PLATINUM BARRON, about two and one-half inches long, diamond in center, surrounded by about 10 small diamonds, lost January 27. L. H. & H. WEINBERG, 653 10th av.

$20 REWARD for return of basket, lost from wagon at West End av., near 10th st. Feb. 3, contains only partial matter. Apply C. H. Osgood, 1224 Broadway.

LOST—Tuesday morning, from 51 East 58th st., to 52nd st. and 5th av. Reward, return to 51 East 58th st.

LOST—Black and red leather bag, lost Saturday, 1920, in Central Park. Address: GUNDI CLUB, 41 5th av.

LOST—Diamond earrings on 6th av., between 42nd and 50th st. $20 reward. Mrs. L. B. BIRNEY, 51 West 55th st.

LOST—Sunder, black leather bag, lost Saturday, 1920, in Central Park. Address: GUNDI CLUB, 41 5th av.

LOST—Diamond earring, lost Saturday, 1920, in Central Park. Address: GUNDI CLUB, 41 5th av.

LOST—U. O. T. S. P. with small diamond in center, reward. 19 West 58th, Apartment 2.

ROSE PASTOR STOKES IS ARRESTED AGAIN

Indicted in Chicago for Criminal Syndicalism.

Thorough Search Fails to Disclose Weapon Used in the Crime—2 Prove Alibi.

Just after Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes had testified yesterday at the trial of Benjamin Gitlow for criminal anarchy, in General Sessions, she was arrested here and spent two hours in the Tombs before her husband was able to arrange for her bail.

A telegram from Chicago stated that Mrs. Stokes had been indicted for criminal syndicalism as a result of a speech she made there at a Socialist meeting January 23. The telegram asked for her arrest and the arrest of one Oscar Tywerowski.

Mrs. Stokes was arraigned two hours later and her bail fixed at $5,000. Her husband, arrived with her in an hour in the Tombs, arrived with a bondman, who offered real estate which was accepted. The bondman also offered to satisfy the bond department in the Criminal Courts Building. So Mrs. Stokes had to wait another hour in jail while Mr. Stokes returned up town and procured the $1,000 Liberty bond which ultimately was accepted as security for her appearance in court on February 15.

Tywerowski, who was brought to the Tombs from the Bronx soon after Mrs. Stokes was not as lucky as she, since on one week bail for him and he is still in the Tombs. Extradition papers are on their way here from Chicago for both Mrs. Stokes and Tywerowski. Mrs. Stokes says she will give them a fight.

WESSELS FIGHTS TO ESCAPE SPY CHARGE

Two Indicted with Him Acquitted Long Ago.

Herman Wessels, one time second officer of the Imperator, who has been under arrest since the spring of 1918 for alleged complicity in German spy plots, has begun a fight to obtain his liberty. Wessels is held in the Tombs, New York Navy Yard, and has been placed on trial before a court-martial, but no such action has been taken.

William H. Italy, Jr., obtained a writ of habeas corpus yesterday from Federal Judge Thomas L. Chaffin in Brooklyn regarding the naval authorities to produce Wessels in court at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Wessels has been indicted on charges of conspiracy to commit treason and espionage, but two men indicted with him as alleged accomplices have been tried separately and acquitted. They are Albert Paul Price and Willard Robinson. Miss de Victoria, the mysterious woman who testified as a Government witness at these trials, said she had come to this country with Wessels as a German agent.

DEFENDS ADOPTED SON AGAINST FRAUD

Gen. Burnett's Widow Pays Falsely Signed Checks.

An indignant defence of her adopted son, Robert Burnett, arraigned before Magistrate Corrigan in the Jefferson Market Court on a charge of obtaining money by fraud, was made yesterday by Mrs. Agnes T. Burnett, widow of the late Brig-Gen. Henry Lawson Burnett.

According to Julius Magor, an assistant manager of the Hotel Pennsylvania, and complainant in the case, Burnett, who is 23 years old, used his foster mother's name to pay bills incurred by him while he was living at the Hotel Pennsylvania, and signed many checks with her name during Mr. Burnett's absence. Ordinarily he makes his home with her at the St. Louis Hotel, at 24 East Thirty-second street.

Mrs. Burnett testified that her adopted son used her permission to use her name whenever he wished. She was indignant at Mr. Magor's attitude, and said that she had adopted Burnett four years ago, when he was 19, and known as Andrews. She said she found him a very affable companion and a relief to her loneliness.

Magistrate Corrigan held Burnett in $500 bail to await the action of the Court of Special Sessions. Burnett said he did not have any occupation.

HESSE'S LANDMARK PASSES FOR $638

End of Noted Saloon, for Which $75,000 Was Refused.

Six years ago a shrewd business man offered Alexander Hesse $75,000 for his cafe at Frankfort and Williams streets. He was told that $100,000 wouldn't be a temptation. But those were days when the prophet of the future had to keep moving lest he be adjudged insane and clapped into a padded cell.

His father, Alexander, being ill, Julius Hesse tearfully stood yesterday in the centre of the site of what once was one of the most densely populated barroom floors in New York and saw an auctioneer sell everything from the mirrors and chairs to the walnut bar and the three cash registers for an aggregate of $638. A junk dealer bought the $4,000 bar for $125 and the lunch bar that cost more than $200 and from which thousands have died, was knocked down for the ignominious sum of $150.

Julius and "Tony," the head barkeep, stayed until the bitter end and left arm in arm.

H. R. HOYT ELECTED TO SUCCEED MR. FRICK

Becomes Director in Company Owning Met. Opera House.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Opera House Real Estate Company, which owns the Metropolitan Opera House, Mr. Henry H. Hoyt, one of the stockholders, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Frank Frick. Hoyt became a stockholder a few years ago when he purchased the stock and part of the opera house. The late Thomas H. Frick, who was the president of the company, died last week. Sherman Hoyt is also part owner of that box, which is No. 23.

The board now is composed of G. G. Haven, president; Henry A. C. Taylor, vice president; George P. Baker, treasurer; and George F. Baker, secretary. The board is composed of G. G. Haven, president; Henry A. C. Taylor, vice president; George P. Baker, treasurer; and George F. Baker, secretary. The board is composed of G. G. Haven, president; Henry A. C. Taylor, vice president; George P. Baker, treasurer; and George F. Baker, secretary.

POLICE BAFFLED IN HOXIE MURDER CASE

Woman and Boy Describe Man Seen at Door of Slain Girl's Home.

FINGERPRINT GIVES CLUE

Thorough Search Fails to Disclose Weapon Used in the Crime—2 Prove Alibi.

Except that they have obtained a further description of the man who entered the apartment of Robert S. Hoxie in 72 West Eighty-ninth street on Monday afternoon the police so far have made small progress in their search for the murderer of seventeen-year-old Reim Constance Hoxie. Neither an autopsy nor a thorough search of the building and the surrounding neighborhood disclosed what sort of weapon or instrument had been used in crushing the head of the pretty young girl.

Substantiation to the only clue to the suspected man was furnished yesterday by Mrs. Della Flynn, landlady in the apartment across the hall from the Hoxies, and by Jay Burger, ten-year-old son of the occupants of the apartment. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Burger, as she opened the door to let in the little boy when he returned from school. Mrs. Flynn said, the suspected man was of medium height and slender, with dark hair and a mustache and dressed in dark clothing.

The police yesterday found and questioned two young men, who speak Spanish and only a few words of English, who had been loitering in the Hoxie apartment for a week, when they were told to leave by Mr. Hoxie, who said he was suspicious of their manner of living. They proved they had been in their new quarters at the supposed time of the crime, between 3 and 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The police also questioned two electricians who had worked in the Hoxie apartment a week ago, who were installing wires in the apartment below on Monday. They proved that they were in the apartment downstairs all the afternoon.

The only other clue is a badly blurred fingerprint, obtained on the bedroom door.

The autopsy on the murdered girl's body was performed at the Morgue by Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, assisted by Dr. Benjamin E. H. Schmitt, medical examiner attached to the District Attorney's office. This disclosed that the girl had sustained seven scalp wounds and a compound fracture of the skull from some blunt instrument, and confirmed the report that she had been criminally attacked after her death.

IDENTIFY MAN SHOT BY SERVICE AGENT

Finger Prints Reveal Swindler Killed, Police Believe.

Finger prints of the man who was shot and killed Tuesday night on the stairs leading to the 12th st. station from the New York Central Railroad by Eric Moore, a secret service agent attached to the Railroad Administration, were found yesterday to be very similar to those of "Big" McGuinness, a notorious swindler, on file at Police Headquarters. While the police asserted the finger prints identified the dead man beyond question, no one called at the morgue to claim the body.

Moore was arraigned before Magistrate Charles E. Sims in Harlem Court and was held in $10,000 for examination Friday on a charge of homicide. He was held in the same cell as the man who was shot and killed. Moore was arraigned before Magistrate Charles E. Sims in Harlem Court and was held in $10,000 for examination Friday on a charge of homicide. He was held in the same cell as the man who was shot and killed.

MAYOR 'WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE AGAIN'

Hylan Declines to Comment on Rumor.

Mayor Hylan will not be a candidate for reelection as Mayor or for any other public office when his present term ends, according to a report yesterday which had its origin in Brooklyn. The story bore the earmarks of authenticity, but the Mayor declined to comment.

The Mayor was quoted as saying that he had "had enough" for any reason, and was ready to retire from public life.

Mayor Hylan expects to go to Palm Beach, Fla., about February 13 for a month's vacation. He also expects to be said in the traction inquiry, and the return of Comptroller Charles L. Craig, who can act for the Mayor on the commission, appeared yesterday to relieve that situation. Another possible deterrent is the ill health of Mrs. Hylan. The Mayor, having ample assurance that President La Guardia would not take political advantage of him in his absence, it is said, is perfectly willing to leave the affairs of a Democratic administration in the hands of a Republican acting Mayor.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS ESCAPE CONTEMPT

Justice Cropsey Scolds Lawyer in Midland Case.

Supreme Court Justice Cropsey, in Brooklyn, dismissed yesterday the city's applications seeking to have officials of the Midland Railroad Company cited for contempt of court and rebuke the Corporation Counsel for failing to serve proper notice of an injunction ordering the Midland's Staten Island lines continued in operation.

The city contended that because the injunction had been served upon Henry J. Blackham, superintendent, the road was in contempt in not obeying the mandate. Justice Cropsey held that Blackham was not a supervising authority, serving the injunction upon him was not binding upon the company.

Justice Cropsey's decision is given as "care of the Grand Central Terminal," Harry Hunter, Louis Kahn and Herbert Grossman. He alleged that his wife gave them jewelry and money as presents. Mrs. Livingston admitted she made present to Hunter because he was interested with her in a theatrical venture, and that she had lent money to Hunter, but that she denied any misconduct.

Pending trial Supreme Court Justice Finch allowed $2,500 counsel fee to Mrs. Livingston.

LIVINGSTONS BOTH SUE FOR A DIVORCE

Chain Store Owner Accuses Wife in Country Action.

Mrs. Mamie W. Livingston, daughter of Samuel Wertheimer, Philadelphia millionaire, has sued Harry Livingston, owner of a chain of department stores in small cities, for divorce and he has filed a counter claim for divorce in which he names four men.

Mrs. Livingston resides at the Hotel Astor and has her main office at 21 West Twenty-second street. Her wife says she has $150,000 annual net income, but he declares it is $10,000. He is paying her $5,000 a year under a separation agreement.

Mrs. Livingston submitted affidavits mentioning one Kitty Gordon and other women. She said her husband had caused a police lieutenant to follow and annoy her, that he had employed detectives to watch her and had offered a man $2,500 to get divorce evidence for him.

Mrs. Livingston mentions a Major F. A. Webb, whose business address is given as "care of the Grand Central Terminal," Harry Hunter, Louis Kahn and Herbert Grossman. He alleged that his wife gave them jewelry and money as presents. Mrs. Livingston admitted she made present to Hunter because he was interested with her in a theatrical venture, and that she had lent money to Hunter, but that she denied any misconduct.

Pending trial Supreme Court Justice Finch allowed $2,500 counsel fee to Mrs. Livingston.

ACCIDENT TIES UP TUBES TO NEW JERSEY

Short Circuit in Power House Deranges Transit.

Service on the Hudson Tubes was interrupted for an hour and seventeen minutes during the rush period yesterday afternoon by an accident in the power house at Christopher street, which caused probable fatal injuries to Harry Dickson, an electrician, of 3051 Bailey avenue, The Bronx. Dickson was thrown thirty feet when a short circuit resulted while he was repairing the two main feed cables leading to the tubes, and was badly burned about the body and legs.

The deranged system of electricity, as if an electrical storm was in progress, and it was several moments before employees there could shut off the current and rescue Dickson. Trains on all the tubes were immediately stopped by the short circuit, leaving the platforms jammed with crowds of the evening rush hour. Several loaded trains were held at the station platforms and others, crowded with passengers, were stranded in the tunnel. Many of them finally went to the ferries and crossed to Jersey by that means.

The accident put the lights and elevators of the Hudson Terminal out of commission and the building was in darkness until the current was turned on, about fifteen minutes. Even then, however, only four elevators remained in working order, and many of the tenants of the building were compelled to walk to the street.

ELLIS ISLAND TO GET READY FOR BIG RUSH

Facilities for Handling Immigrants To Be Increased.

Ellis Island is to be enlarged, and all the facilities for handling immigrants at this port are to be extended greatly in preparation for the unprecedented rush of immigrants expected by officials, according to Alfred Hamton, Assistant Commissioner-General of Immigration, who came to this city from Washington yesterday to confer with Acting Commissioner L. H. Schmitt.

"There are indications that this country is on the eve of a great rush of immigration," said Mr. Hamton. "It may be such as we have never seen before. Many persons who never went home are now coming back, and their relatives are coming with them."

"During the war much of the work connected with immigration was carried on at the docks. It is part of my business to see that this trip is made possible by continuing this practice. We intend to carry on the work of examining and shifting immigrants at Ellis Island. This will require an enormous addition to the force of employees there."

ADVISES CHANGE IN CITY DEPARTMENTS

Mr. Hirschfeld Urges Placing Hospitals Under One Head.

David Hirschfeld, Commissioner of Accounts, has recommended to the Mayor that three city departments and bureaus be consolidated, that two other bureaus be abolished and that the execution of such changes be left to the Board of Aldermen, subject to the veto of the Mayor.

Mayor Hylan recently requested Mr. Hirschfeld to give his opinion upon such steps as a means to municipal economy. Perhaps the most radical change advocated in the report of Mr. Hirschfeld is that a hospital department be created. He favors placing all the hospitals of the city under New York Central Railroad by Eric Moore, a secret service agent attached to the Railroad Administration, were found yesterday to be very similar to those of "Big" McGuinness, a notorious swindler, on file at Police Headquarters. While the police asserted the finger prints identified the dead man beyond question, no one called at the morgue to claim the body.

Moore was arraigned before Magistrate Charles E. Sims in Harlem Court and was held in $10,000 for examination Friday on a charge of homicide. He was held in the same cell as the man who was shot and killed. Moore was arraigned before Magistrate Charles E. Sims in Harlem Court and was held in $10,000 for examination Friday on a charge of homicide. He was held in the same cell as the man who was shot and killed.

MAYOR 'WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE AGAIN'

Hylan Declines to Comment on Rumor.

Mayor Hylan will not be a candidate for reelection as Mayor or for any other public office when his present term ends, according to a report yesterday which had its origin in Brooklyn. The story bore the earmarks of authenticity, but the Mayor declined to comment.

The Mayor was quoted as saying that he had "had enough" for any reason, and was ready to retire from public life.

Mayor Hylan expects to go to Palm Beach, Fla., about February 13 for a month's vacation. He also expects to be said in the traction inquiry, and the return of Comptroller Charles L. Craig, who can act for the Mayor on the commission, appeared yesterday to relieve that situation. Another possible deterrent is the ill health of Mrs. Hylan. The Mayor, having ample assurance that President La Guardia would not take political advantage of him in his absence, it is said, is perfectly willing to leave the affairs of a Democratic administration in the hands of a Republican acting Mayor.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS ESCAPE CONTEMPT

Justice Cropsey Scolds Lawyer in Midland Case.

Supreme Court Justice Cropsey, in Brooklyn, dismissed yesterday the city's applications seeking to have officials of the Midland Railroad Company cited for contempt of court and rebuke the Corporation Counsel for failing to serve proper notice of an injunction ordering the Midland's Staten Island lines continued in operation.

The city contended that because the injunction had been served upon Henry J. Blackham, superintendent, the road was in contempt in not obeying the mandate. Justice Cropsey held that Blackham was not a supervising authority, serving the injunction upon him was not binding upon the company.

Justice Cropsey's decision is given as "care of the Grand Central Terminal," Harry Hunter, Louis Kahn and Herbert Grossman. He alleged that his wife gave them jewelry and money as presents. Mrs. Livingston admitted she made present to Hunter because he was interested with her in a theatrical venture, and that she had lent money to Hunter, but that she denied any misconduct.

Pending trial Supreme Court Justice Finch allowed $2,500 counsel fee to Mrs. Livingston.

LIVINGSTONS BOTH SUE FOR A DIVORCE

Chain Store Owner Accuses Wife in Country Action.

Mrs. Mamie W. Livingston, daughter of Samuel Wertheimer, Philadelphia millionaire, has sued Harry Livingston, owner of a chain of department stores in small cities, for divorce and he has filed a counter claim for divorce in which he names four men.

Mrs. Livingston resides at the Hotel Astor and has her main office at 21 West Twenty-second street. Her wife says she has $150,000 annual net income, but he declares it is $10,000. He is paying her $5,000 a year under a separation agreement.

Mrs. Livingston submitted affidavits mentioning one Kitty Gordon and other women. She said her husband had caused a police lieutenant to follow and annoy her, that he had employed detectives to watch her and had offered a man $2,500 to get divorce evidence for him.

Mrs. Livingston mentions a Major F. A. Webb, whose business address is given as "care of the Grand Central Terminal," Harry Hunter, Louis Kahn and Herbert Grossman. He alleged that his wife gave them jewelry and money as presents. Mrs. Livingston admitted she made present to Hunter because he was interested with her in a theatrical venture, and that she had lent money to Hunter, but that she denied any misconduct.

Pending trial Supreme Court Justice Finch allowed $2,500 counsel fee to Mrs. Livingston.

Store Closes at 6:00 o'clock
Weather today—Snow or rain.

THE JOHN WANAMAKER STORE

Broadway at Ninth Street, New York.
Formerly A. T. Stewart.

MUSIQUE

There Is Much Talk and Lots of Newspaperisms

these days about labor and capital, which some persons discuss as though capital and money were equivalent and interchangeable terms.

Capital is a bigger word than money because capital includes intuitiveness, integrity, mentality, executive ability, sagacity and skill absolutely necessary to the industries that require money to float and further them.

Some of the fine old business concerns of fifty years ago in New York and Philadelphia have gone down and disappeared for lack of the genius of their fathers and founders. But some of them left a million dollars in their will to their sons, who easily let the hard-earned money slip away in speculations.

Money is only metal if mentality is not back of it.

Andrew Carnegie and Henry C. Frick, Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas A. Edison started life with no other capital than their healthy bodies, strong bodies, brains, strong fingers and good eyes.

Stop the idle talk and gossip of great concerns and business men of affairs who richly deserve all they have acquired.

Such men have made our country.

(Signed)
John Wanamaker

February 4, 1920.

A Great Exposition of the New Furniture at Wanamaker's

In the February Sale

It is the NEW furniture of America, with all pre-war extremes and experiments gone. The GOOD furniture of America, with the simple, strong, enduring qualities of the country that produced it. The grain of the woods is beautiful. The workmanship is superb.

Pull out a drawer from any bureau and see how smoothly it works. Sit down in one of the new low-backed divans and sense the wonderful comfort of it. Note the lines of the bedroom and dining-room suites. You will never get tired of seeing them. They will give you a positive feeling of satisfaction every time you enter the room.

QUALITY is written quietly and ineffaceably in every piece of the new furniture.

And the price of every piece is reduced 10 to 33 per cent.

One, point to bear in mind

There are other kinds of furniture, glossed up to look like furniture of character and reliability, so that they may be sold at lower prices. You don't want that kind. And we don't have it. We only have the GOOD kind and plenty of it.

And another

America is producing only two-thirds of the furniture the country is calling for. This means that only two-thirds of the people who need furniture can get it. And that prices will not come down until the supply equals the demand.

Fifth & Sixth Galleries, New Bldg.

Store Closes at 6:00 o'clock
Weather today—Snow or rain.

THE JOHN WANAMAKER STORE

Broadway at Ninth Street, New York.
Formerly A. T. Stewart.

MUSIQUE

Yesterday's Remarkable Concert at Carnegie Hall

LEVITZKI
—MOISEWITSCH
—ORNSTEIN
—RUBINSTEIN
—and the great composer pianist, GODOWSKY—
—five masters of the piano-forte, —shared with the AMPICO Reproducing Piano the greatest blessings and inspirations.

But it is only the music you HEAR that can bless you and inspire you.

A piano isn't music.

Striking the keys doesn't produce music.

MUSIC lies hidden at the end of a long, long road over which ninety-nine out of every hundred men and women haven't got time to travel.

And so they have gone without music—gone without that which is as sunshine to the soul—except when on rare occasions they have gone to a good concert or to the opera.

But they have MISSED music. They have desired it. And generations of effort has been directed to the satisfying of this universal desire, culminating in the AMPICO Reproducing unfettered approval of a large audience in Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon.

The remarkable thing about it is that the AMPICO—an instrument—played just as well as the artists.

GODOWSKY, for example, sat down at the keyboard and played. Then, folding his arms, he remained seated while the AMPICO played.

And none could tell the difference!

So with the others. Each played, then sat motionless while the AMPICO duplicated his individual style of playing to the last degree.

If this were a statement of what a man hoped to accomplish you would smile, and your smile would mean "It can't be done."

But—IT WAS DONE yesterday at Carnegie Hall.

Now, what does it mean to you?

MUSIC is one of life's

Through the CHICKERING-AMPICO you can HEAR music—REAL music—in the wonderfully sweet tones of the oldest piano of America—the ALL-AMERICAN piano—the piano to the accompaniment of which Jenny Lind sang three-quarters of a century ago.

The story of the AMPICO is too big to be covered in words.

Come to the Auditorium today or tomorrow and let the story of the AMPICO be told to you through the Tableaux Historiques de Musique which illustrate the develop-and J. THURSTON NOE, at the organ and piano.

NOTE—The music, dances, costumes and stage setting will be in the period of each tableau.

Admission complimentary. All music-lovers invited. First Gallery, New Bldg.

AN EVENT

A Shipment of the Famous Bassano Ware, Just from Italy

Au Quatrieme

Out from Italy, along the Piave, four hours in the train, under the overhanging sides of the Grappa, lies the little town of Bassano. For two years this town has been under shot and shell, and the normal industries have ceased under the more urgent one of keeping the soldiers constantly supplied with food and ammunition. Up the sides of the mountains are long, winding trails that show where mule trains of munition and files of toiling women have carried up supplies.

The beautiful pottery, so long a famous product of Bassano, has not been made for at least two years, and this shipment now Au Quatrieme is the first, to our knowledge, that has come to this country since the war. This pottery